Industrial Valve Transition of DG3/5V-10 10 to 11 Design

Effective in June 2022, we will be transitioning our DG3V10-10 design series and DG5V10-10 design series models over to DG3V10-11 design series and DG5V10-11 design series respectively. This is in line with our efforts to always supply you with the best product technology we have available. The newest -11 design will have the same fit, form and function as -10 design with the adaptor plate removed as illustrated in these pictures below.

August 2023

Please work with your customer to transition them to the DG3(5)V10-11 design series. The last time buy date will be June 30th, 2022. See below table for the cross reference from -10 design to -11 design. After this date, we will no longer be accepting orders on the part numbers in the attached table. If you are not able to locate the equivalent part number in the cross-reference table, kindly please reach out to your respective sales representative or customer service team.

The new updated catalogue is available via Danfoss PowerSource, or here.

FAQ's:

What will happen with my open order?

All current open orders and orders placed before June 30th, 2022 will be fulfilled.

What about warranty claims after the June 30th, 2022 deadline?

This transition will not affect our warranty terms. If a repair or return is required, our facility has the capability to either send a -10 or -11 design series depending on our component inventory.

For all inquiries, please contact IMCProductSupport@danfoss.com.
